I WILL NOT

Synopsis

In July of 2014, the world watched with great sadness as violence erupted once again between Israelis and Palestinians in the Gaza Strip. Palestinian writer (and former Sesame Street producer) Naila Farouky wrote a powerful poem that was a cry from the heart for maintaining humanity, even in the face of pain, rage and sorrow. The poem became a picture book, illustrated by Israeli artist Ora Eitan. We hope that readers will be inspired by this small-but-mighty vow, shared by a Palestinian writer and an Israeli artist in the face of violence: I WILL NOT. Published in English, Arabic and Hebrew. All three languages are printed in every edition. "She has truly captured what people feel, fear and can no longer understand. It brought both sadness and hope to me." -Cairo Arafat, Child Rights Governance Advisor, SAVE THE CHILDREN / Occupied Palestinian Territories.

A heartfelt and sensitive expression of how the author sees the struggles in the middle east. Her background and experiences in life allowed her to see all sides of the issues and knows that only thoughtful ideas and compromise will provide a lasting peace.

A very descriptive and emotional poem about a topic that is not addressed enough. It's also a great way to educate your kids about what is happening in the world and how it affects everyone. I highly recommend this book to be read in classrooms and homes alike.

This heartfelt and heart-opening book beautifully matches writing and illustration to amplify this essential message. Leaves one full of admiration.

A touching & wonderful book & poem. It portrayed what many of us feel & want to say.

Don't we all want our children to grow up in a world without violence? This book makes a wonderful case for peace. It's written for teens, but it's relevant for everyone.
